Two Revolutionary Parties for the Bride AND the Groom My Wedding Notes' Brides Soiree 2008 and Grooms Night Out 2008

January 9, 2008, Vancouver, BC - Brides dream of their big day all their lives, and when they get engaged, it can be pure madness to plan this much-anticipated big day. Between seating charts, floral arrangements, cake tastings, gown fittings and getting the groom involved, the perfect wedding becomes stressful – brides become Bridezillas!

My Wedding Notes to the rescue! My Wedding Notes, the world's first online group planning tool, knows wedding planning and offers a complete solution online for the modern smart bride. To celebrate its 4th anniversary, My Wedding Notes will be hosting two revolutionary parties. Brides Soiree 2008, a night dedicated to brides at Stonegrill Restaurant on Thursday, March, 27th, 2008 and Grooms Night Out 2008, Vancouver's first party catering to grooms and their groomsmen at Players Chophouse Restaurant & Lounge on Thursday, March 20th, 2008. A silent auction and raffle will also be held at both events, with proceeds benefiting the BC Centre For Ability.

For the brides, My Wedding Notes' Brides Soiree 2008 will be like no other wedding event in the city. Brides will get to experience a spectacular wedding-like party before their own big day. Brides Soiree 2008 will feature all the elements that make up a real wedding including hair, makeup, nail pampering, gowns, tasting menu, cake cutting and even the traditional bouquet toss. Brides will have the opportunity to experience the wedding-like party as a guest, and be able to pick ideas and apply the elements to their own wedding.

"For a new bride-to-be, wedding planning is such a new experience, we wanted to give a sneak peek into what a great wedding looks and feels like" says Angel Pui, My Wedding Notes CEO & Founder. "The Brides Soiree 2008 will showcase the elements of a wedding in its true context, as opposed to the traditional show booth where brides have to piece all the elements together on their own".

My Wedding Notes could not forget about the grooms! Grooms Night Out 2008 will feature tasting menus from Players Chophouse, beer and wine tasting, hot shaves, tuxedo and men's fashion, a gaming lounge, poker tables, electronics and gadgets, and much more.

"Most wedding shows are geared towards brides, since the brides do make most of the decisions. However, nowadays, the grooms are starting to get more involved with the wedding planning process," says Pui, "Traditional wedding shows are too overwhelming for the typical guy. We want to create a show just for men that showcase components that are interesting and relevant to them."

These two revolutionary parties are true to My Wedding Notes' innovative spirits of new and unique solutions to couples-to-be. These two anniversary parties for My Wedding Notes will give brides and grooms a fresh new perspective for their big day, the perfect way to celebrate four years in business with brides, grooms and partners.
